SOUTHERN PACIFIC OVERIGHTS

AND

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OVERNIGHT EXPRESS CABOOSE

3 PACK

The Southern Pacific Railroad developed a large network of connecting hubs whereby freight would be moved "Overnight" at an unheard of pace for the time. One way of advertising this service was to decorate a number of their boxcars either in striking silver with their orange, red and black logo or in Jet-black with a yellow and red logo.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC

TRAILER-FLATCAR SERVICE

The Pacific Motor Trucking Company (PMT) was founded by the Southern Pacific RR in 1928 with the intention of expanding its RR business. SP provided pick-up and delivery (PUD) services both to and from local highway trucking firms or freight stations in order to accomplish this result. 1953 was the year Southern Pacific began trailer-on-flat-car (TOFC) service and when combined with PUD operations the SP could provide door to door trucking over vast distances. The Southern Pacific PMT subsidiary provided a much needed route of travel for almost every manufactured product imaginable within the "Golden Empire" area. Whether it be watermelons, kitchen appliances, car parts or food products, you name it, and it probably traveled over the SP rails.

Our two TOFC's along with the very distinctive "Trailer Freight-car Service" caboose is offered as a commemorative of the 2005 National "N" Scale Convention being hosted by "SoCal N" along with the "N Scale Collector" in Sunny San Diego California on August 17-21, 2005.

Southern Pacific (R) is a registered trademark of the Union Pacific Railroad.
